Pastor's Corner

Dear brothers and sisters of Our Lady of Lourdes Parish,

We encounter customs from other cultures these days – through travel, television, the internet, and by becoming friends or neighbors with folks from another part of our world. We are greatly blessed to have so many ways to see and experience how others view life, see the world, plumb its meaning and purpose, and stand before God in prayer and worship.

During the month of November, the Church remembers all those who have gone before us in this life into the next life from the Feast of All Saints through to the Feast of Our Lord Jesus Christ, the King.

For the last 40 years or so, our liturgical life has reminded us of those who died since last November. Many of our churches are adorned with banners bearing the names of these folk. It is good that we do this. We believe in the communion of saints; these banners proclaim that we are not alone; we are surrounded, as Scripture says, by a cloud of witnesses!

In the last few years, our Hispanic/Latino neighbors have introduced us to their Catholic/Christian custom of the "Day of the Dead," November 2 (liturgically, All Souls day).

From October 31 through to November 2, and often extending beyond these three days, an altar is erected in homes, in churches, or other gathering places (e.g. the Catholic Center lobby.) On the altar pictures of the dead are set out. Objects that the deceased enjoyed in their life, especially various foods, drinks, or symbols, are set near them. Often candles are burned on or near these pictures.

If you have ever placed a picture of a deceased loved one on such an "altar," you know of the power of this moment and the renewed connection that the placement alone makes with that person. It is a profound spiritual connection, often leading to prayers of thanksgiving and hope.

I have erected such an "altar" in my sitting room, placing upon it the pictures of many close friends and family who have died. A candle (glass encased, of course) burns there to remind me of their presence each time I sit down to read or pray. That "altar" will remain until Advent begins.

Perhaps you might find this an appropriate means to celebrate the life of those who formed you, supported you, encouraged you, and even yet provide prayers for you from their eternal rest. Enshrine them this November in your heart and in your home. And be at peace with them in the resurrection hope we have through Jesus Christ.

Father Rick

Mass for the Dead: Friday, November 18

Following the 2010 Roman Missal, the choral parts will largely be in Latin (with translations provided), with prayers, readings, and other responses in English. Please join Vox Sacra in praying for the faithful departed in the beautifully sung worship of this Mass.

SCHOOL NEWS

When a school is accredited, it means that the institution has met certain standards of educational quality. Our Lady of Lourdes School is proud to be accredited by the State of Indiana. Later this school year, in March, our school will be visited by a team from the Archdiocese of Indianapolis who will assess us for the renewal of our state accreditation.

As a Catholic School, our accreditation process is aligned with the National Standards and Benchmarks for Effective Catholic Schools (NSBECS). In preparation, our staff is continuing to do what they do best, teach according to grade level academic standards, meet students' educational and social needs, and communicate with families and each other regarding what is best for our students. We are also gathering information related to 13 standards for which we will be evaluated in the following categories: Mission and Catholic Identity, Governance and Leadership, Academic Excellence, and Operational Vitality.

One way parents can help is to participate in the surveys that were recently shared with you via School Messenger email. Any information that you share will help us assess ourselves and participate more fully in the accreditation process. If you are a member of parish council, school commission, or happen to be our pastor or deacon, you may be called upon in March to be part of an interview panel. Your input, our faculty and staff's hard work, and the resulting school improvement planning will ensure that our school remains vital well into the future. As always, thank you for your support!

“May our Lord Jesus Christ himself and God our Father, who has loved us and given us everlasting encouragement and good hope through his grace, encourage your hearts and strengthen them in every good deed and word.”
 2 THESSALONIANS 2:16-17

There are two important lessons about Stewardship here. First, we are called to be generous with our encouragement and hope with others. As God shows us mercy, we must be merciful to others. Second, joy is contagious! The joy we receive from doing good works not only strengthens us, it encourages others as well. Share the joy of living your faith whenever you can.

The mystery of the redemption of the human person is rooted in the loving involvement of God with human suffering. Hope is always possible. To those who care for the sick, the scene of the Cross provides a way of understanding that even when it seems that there is nothing more to do there remains much to do, because “remaining” by the side of the sick is a sign of love and of the hope that it contains. Healed by Jesus, we become men and women called to proclaim his healing power and provide care for our neighbors, until the very end.

Thank You Confirmation Retreat Helpers

Thank you to everyone who have helped to make the Confirmation retreat held on Saturday, more meaningful (even possible): Kieron Mitchell, Carissa McNulty, Ben Horner, Jeff and Mary Williams made up our caravan, and everyone who got up early and came to church to send off the group with prayer and support! Look for us attending Mass together Saturday evening.

Sunday Religious Education Needs You

Without caring people to pass on our Catholic faith, our youngest members will not learn it. Who else will be teaching them and what will that message be? We are still in need of people to share in the religious education ministry of the parish. Raising children in the faith is the responsibility of parents and the entire parish. Who will use some of their Sunday mornings before Mass to help form the faith of our coming generations? More mature, experienced parishioners are especially sought. Matthew wants to talk with you at any time.
